The University of North Alabama Friday announced its mascot lion, Leo III, died Thursday after a brief illness.

Leo III died “peacefully,” the university said, at the George H. Carroll Lion Habitat at the age of 21 and in the presence of attending veterinarians and volunteer caregivers.

“Leo III and his late sister Una were important members of the UNA family for many years. We are greatly saddened by Leo’s passing,” the university said in a statement. According to the university, Leo III and his sister Una were born Nov. 18, 2002, at a wildlife refuge in New Hampshire.

They flew to UNA when they were six weeks old in a Learjet donated by a UNA supporter. Leo III weighed nine pounds when he arrived on campus. Upon his death, he weighed 500 pounds.

Leo lived in the school’s $1.3 million lion habitat, built in 2002. It has both indoor and outdoor areas for lions, along with a kitchen and service areas for the caretakers.

In 2012, Leo III and Una were ranked No. 1 of the 25 Best Real Animal Mascots in College Football by totalprosports.com, with UNA being the only non-Division I institution to make the list.

Ice Cream, Lions, and Anna

Leo & UNA were very special to WPC! Pastor John McKell & wife Janice were the lions’ caregivers for many years. WPC was lucky enough to have the duo visit the church’s annual Ice Cream Social for several years so that the community could come visit them up close.

You will be missed Leo & UNA!

Una died in the summer of 2020.

"Glamour shot"

A Birthday Limerick for Judith Ann Salter
A cute baby girl came right on cue;
Her beautiful eyes are stunningly blue.
Arriving on scene
On Mayeighteen,
She stole our hearts and spirits anew
She took center stage quick as you please;
With lots of awards and her many degrees.
And a fabulous Fed
Just like her Dad;
Judy thrills our hearts like a heavenly breeze.
Happy Birthday, Judy. We love you very much.
